Continuation of Disposition of Claims: Claims subject to restriction and/or election requirement are 1-3,5,9,11-13,15,18,19,21,23-31,33,35-38,40-43 and 45-52.

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-3, 5, 9, 11-13, 15, 18, 19, 21, 23-28, 42, 43 and 45-52, drawn to a method for fabrication of a semiconductor device on substrate, classified in class 438, subclass 122.
- II. Claims 29-31, 33, 35-38, 40 and 41, drawn to a semiconductor device comprising epitaxial layers, classified in class 257, subclass 76.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as one in which instead of electroplating a relative thick layer of thermally conductive metal, the thick thermally conductive metal layer can be formed by chemical vapor deposition (CVD) or sputtering.
3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. If Applicants elect Group I, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

For Group I

Species I, a method for fabricating of a semiconductor device on a substrate including the thermally conductive metal of sufficient thickness to provide a heat sink (Claims 1-3, 5, 9, 11-13, 15, 18, 19, 21, 23-28, and 47-48).

Species II, a method of fabricating of a semiconductor device on a substrate, with a plurality of epitaxial layers comprising multiple GaN-related epitaxial layers (Claims 42, 43, 45 and 46).

Species III, a method for fabrication of a light emitting device on a substrate (Claims 49-52).

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record. In addition, the species require distinct and separate search that is independent one from the other.

5. Applicant(s) is/are required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none are generic.

There is all examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant(s) is/are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Art Unit: 2823

Should applicant(s) traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
